

ERRATUM

In the Table of Contents in the February 1999 issue of ANESTHESIOLOGY (1999; 90:25A) the last sentence of the precis of the article authored by Kayser et al. was incorrectly linked with the Special Article Practice Guidelines authored by The Task Force on Obstetrical Anesthesia. We regret the error.

AUTHOR CORRECTION

A Clinical Investigation authored by Naguib et al. published in the November 1998 issue of ANESTHESIOLOGY (1998; 89:1116-24) contained an error. The first sentence in the Results in the Abstract should read as follows:

The calculated ED<sub>50</sub> values and their 95% confidence intervals were 111 (107-115) and 26.2 (25.8-26.5)  $\mu\text{g}/\text{kg}$  for rocuronium and cisatracurium, respectively. The authors regret this error.

AUTHOR CORRECTION

For the article by Palmer et al. in the February 1999 issue of ANESTHESIOLOGY (1999; 90:437-44) the authors would like to make the following correction:

In the Conclusions section in the Abstract, the second sentence should read, "For optimal analgesia, augmentation of intrathecal morphine with systemic opioids may be necessary."