COLLECTED ESSAYS

Pers Black; Political Trends in Latin America: A Structural and Historical Analysis, Jorge Nef; International Relations in Latin America: Conflict and Cooperation, James Lee Ray; United States Policy in Latin America, Jerome Slater, Latin America in the World, Lorman C. Wilson; Mexico: Historical Foundations, Fred R. Harris; Contemporary Mexico, Martin C. Needle; The Central American Region, Richard Millett; Panama and the Canal, Steve C. Ropp; The Cuban Revolution, Nelson P. Valdés; The Caribbean: The Structure of Modern-Conservative Societies, Anthony P. Maingot; Venezuela, Colombia, and Ecuador, John D. Martz; Peru and Bolivia, José Z. García; Chile: The Breakdown of Democracy, Karen L. Remmer; Argentina: Development and Decay, Peter G. Snow; Uruguay and Paraguay, Diego Abente; Brazil: From Independence to 1964, Michael L. Conniff; Brazil: The Quest for a New Social Contract, Brady Tyson; Conclusion, Jan Knippers Black.

The Analysis of Latin American Foreign Policies: Theoretical Perspectives, Alberto van Klaveren; On Comparing Foreign Policies: Comments on van Kalveren, Kenneth M. Coleman; The Formulation and Implementation of Brazilian Foreign Policy: Itamaraty and the New Actors, Alexandre De S. C. Barros; Politics, Bureaucracy, and Foreign Policy in Chile, Manfred Wilhelmy; Perceptions as Realities: The United States, Venezuela, and Cuba in the Caribbean, Anthony P. Maingot; The Role of Regional Powers in Central America: Mexico, Venezuela, Cuba, and Colombia, Wolf Grabendoff; Recent Strategic Developments in South America’s Southern Cone, Wayne A. Selcher; The Malvinas Conflict: Analyzing the Argentine Military Regime’s Decision-Making Process, Carlos J. Moneta; Venezuelan Foreign Policy and the Role of Political Parties, John D. Martz; The International Policy of the Socialist Party and Foreign Relations of Chile, Heraldo Muñoz; Internationalism and the Limits of Autonomy: Cuba’s Foreign Relations, Enrique Baloyra Herp; Authoritarian Regimes and Foreign Policy: The Case of Argentina, Joseph S. Tulchin; Peru: The Military Government’s Foreign Policy in Its Two Phases (1968–1980), Helan Jaworski C.; Democratic Transition and Foreign Policy: The Experience of Brazil, Monica Hirost; The Foreign Policy Implications of the International System, Francisco Orrego Vicuna; The Soviet Union in the Foreign Relations of the Southern Cone, Augusto Varas.
