In the article entitled The Fusiform "Face Area" is Part of a Network that Processes Faces at the Individual Level, by Isabel Gauthier, Michael J. Tarr, Jill Moylan, Pawel Skudlarski, John C. Gore, and Adam W. Anderson,

Journal of Cognitive Neuroscience, 12:3, May 2000, page 499, Figure 4 should be replaced with the above Figure 4. A corrected version of the manuscript can be found on our web site at <http://jocn.mitpress.org/>.
