

IN MEMORIAM

THE HARTFORD GRADUATE CENTER

regrets to announce

the death

of

HARRY KRAUS, PH.D.

Professor of Engineering

on March 5, 1983

In addition to his many other duties, Harry Kraus served as Associate Editor of the JOURNAL OF PRESSURE VESSEL TECHNOLOGY. His research contributions to the pressure vessel industry had gained him an international reputation. The members of the Editorial Board extend their deepest sympathies to his family and colleagues at the Hartford Graduate Center. We as well as the other members of the engineering profession mourn his passing and will miss his company and contributions.