

Karam, John H. Massachusetts	San Francisco
Kozak, George P. New York	Boston
Frohman, Lawrence A. Oregon	Buffalo
Callan, Joseph A. West Virginia	Eugene
Davidson, Paul C.	Morgantown

NEWS OF

AFFILIATE ASSOCIATIONS

The DIABETES ASSOCIATION OF THE CINCINNATI AREA, in conjunction with the College of Medicine, University of Cincinnati, will sponsor its Third Postgraduate Course in Diabetes on Thursday, November 18, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Carrousel Inn, Cincinnati.

Speakers on the program will include Theodore B. Schwartz, M.D., Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago, whose topic will be "Nonketotic Diabetic Comas," and David M. Kipnis, M.D., Washington University School of Medicine, St. Louis, who will speak on "Endocrine Influences on Carbohydrate and Lipid Metabolism." The Muhlberg Lecture, "The Role of Synalbumin and the Development of Diabetes," will be delivered by John Vallance-Owen, M.D., Medical School, Kings College, University of Durham, Newcastle upon Tyne, England.

Additional speakers and their subjects will be Leon Ostrander, M.D., College of Medicine, University of Michigan, "The Relationship of Hyperglycemia to Aging and Vascular Disease"; Theodore B. Van Itallie, M.D., College of Medicine, Columbia University, "Dietary Carbohydrate and Lipids, Triglyceride Metabolism, and Atherosclerosis"; and George J. Hamwi, M.D., College of Medicine, Ohio State University, "Oral Hypoglycemic Agents: A Critical Evaluation after Ten Years of Use."

The NEW JERSEY DIABETES ASSOCIATION, in cooperation with the New Jersey State Department of Health, will present a Symposium on "Unusual Complications of Diabetes Mellitus" on Wednesday, December 1, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Auditorium of the Prudential Plaza Building, Newark, New Jersey.

The following speakers will be present and will talk on the subjects listed:

Morton S. Bryer, M.D., Consultant on Infectious Diseases and Assisting Attending Physician in Medicine, Mount Sinai Hospital, New York, "The Treatment of Refractory Bacterial Infections"; John J. Bookman, M.D., Assistant Attending Physician for Metabolic Diseases, Mount Sinai Hospital, "Diabetic Visceral Enteropathies"; and Joseph L. Morse, M.D., Professor and Chairman, Department of Dermatology, New York Medical College, "Skin Manifestations in Diabetes Mellitus."

A panel discussion will be moderated by Harold Rifkin, M.D., Clinical Professor of Medicine, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Yeshiva University, New York.

NEWS NOTES

AMERICAN DIETETIC ASSOCIATION WILL HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The forty-eighth Annual Meeting of the American Dietetic Association will take place in Cleveland November 1-5. Sessions will be held at the Cleveland Convention Center Tuesday through Thursday, November 2 through November 4, and at the headquarters hotel, the Sheraton-Cleveland, on Tuesday night, November 2, and on the morning of November 5.

Thomas P. Sharkey, M.D., Dayton, a Past President of the American Diabetes Association, will present "New Research Developments in Diabetes Mellitus," at the Tuesday morning session entitled "Advances in Diabetes." Following Dr. Sharkey's address, "Diabetes and the Pima Indians" will be presented by Max Miller, M.D., Cleveland, and Peter Bennett, M.D., and Thomas W. Burch, M.D., both of Bethesda. "A Dietitian Looks at the Pima Indians" will be presented by Alice P. Hoover, Cleveland.

Daniel B. Stone, M.D., Iowa City, will present "The Dietitian and the Diabetic Patient" on Wednesday morning, November 3. At this session, entitled "New Concepts for Counseling the Patient," Mildred Kaufman, Washington, D.C., will present "A Food Preference Questionnaire as a Tool in Dietary Counseling for Patients with Diabetes."

A session entitled "Diabetes, New Programmed Instruction, Adapting the Exchange Lists," will be presented on Thursday afternoon, November 4. It will include the presentation of papers by Clarence Williams, Ph.D., Rochester, New York ("Progress of Programmed Instruction"); O. B. Parrish, New York ("The Programmed Book"); Mildred Kaufman, Washington, D.C. ("Use of Convenience Foods in Meal Planning for Persons with Diabetes"); and Marion S. Noland, Kansas City ("Considerations for Adapting the Exchanges").

PERSONALS

JEROME W. CONN, M.D., Ann Arbor, a Past President of the American Diabetes Association and present Chairman of the Association's Committee on Research, has been awarded a 1965 International Prize of the Gairdner Foundation of Toronto. The prize is an award of $5,000, which the Foundation grants annually. For 1965, six prizes have been announced for distinguished medical achievement, two for the United States, two for England, one for Canada, and one for New Zealand. Award winners will go to Toronto to receive the prizes and citations from the Hon. W. Earl Rowe Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, at a formal dinner November 19 at the National Club. The following morning they will present the Gairdner Lectures at the Toronto Academy of Medicine.

JAMES M. MOSS, M.D., Alexandria, Virginia, will speak to the Southern Medical Association in Houston on "Pregnant Diabetic Patients Treated with Oral Hypoglycemic Drugs" on November 2. On November 18, he will present the McGuire Lecture of the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond a part of a symposium on diabetes. His speech is entitled "Oral Therapy in Diabetic Management."