The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) has announced the recall of the following products. Consumers should stop using recalled products unless otherwise instructed. Consumers can submit reports of harm to CPSC's new searchable online product safety database at www.SaferProducts.gov. A searchable food and medical product recall database is available at www.fda.gov/Safety/Recalls/default.htm.

Baby monitor batteries

Units: About 800,000

Hazard: The battery in the handheld video monitor can overheat and burst, which is a burn hazard.

Description: The rechargeable batteries in Summer Infant handheld color video monitors are recalled. TCL is printed on the lower right corner of the battery. Monitors are sold with a matching camera and A/C adaptors. For a list of recalled batteries, visit http://www.summerinfant.com/SummerInfant/media/SI_ContentImages/Battery-Images-5_2_14.jpg.

Sold at: Mass merchants, including Babies "R" Us, online retailers and independent juvenile specialty stores from February 2010 through 2012 for $150 to $350.

Remedy: Remove the battery and contact Summer Infant for a replacement. The monitor can be used with the power cord.

Contact: Call Summer Infant at 800-426-8627 or visit www.summerinfant.com/alerts/battery-recall.
