Perioperative Hyperglycemia Management: An Update: Erratum

In the article “Perioperative hyperglycemia management: An update” (Duggan DW, Carlson K, Umpierrez GE: ANESTHESIOLOGY 2017; 126:547–60), there is an error in figure 2. Under “Elective Surgery,” the subcutaneous insulin dosing regimen was erroneously outlined as a duplicate of the continuous IV insulin infusion. The correct figure is below with the correct intraoperative subcutaneous insulin regimen now outlined in the blue box. The original text was correct but the figure did not match.

The authors regret this error. The online version and PDF of the article have been corrected.
