HYGIENE STANDARD FOR IMPULSE NOISE

It has been observed that a typographical error has occurred in Vol. 19 on page 186, line 20, where $n$ should be defined as the number of 'impulses/second in a typical 8 h day' and not as printed.

$n$ is obtained by dividing the total number of impulses in an 8 h day by 28 800. Calculations using the equation (3) as printed will overestimate $L_{eq}$ by about 45 dB, and it is hoped that this will have alerted readers to the error!
