

Acknowledgments

I would like to thank Ellen Seiter, my dissertation committee member and editor of the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation Reports on Digital Media and Learning series, for her guidance and advice on this project. I also appreciate the continued support of the Annenberg School for Communication and Journalism at the University of Southern California, especially my primary doctoral studies adviser, Henry Jenkins. I am extremely grateful for the insights shared with me by the youth and adults with disabilities who I have met over the course of my research as well as their families, friends, teachers, and supporters. In addition, I would like to thank the following individuals for being invaluable thought partners as I worked through the ideas in this report: Mike Ananny, François Bar, Elizabeth Ellcessor, Beth Haller, Sara Hendren, Paul Lichterman, Melissa Morgenlander, Mara Mills, and Rachel Proffitt. Lastly, I wish to thank Susan Buckley at the MIT Press and the anonymous outside readers for their feedback on the manuscript.
