

illustrations

FIGURE I.1. View of the Orozco Room, Baker-Berry Library, Dartmouth College. José Clemente Orozco, Mexican, 1883–1949, The Epic of American Civilization. 2

FIGURE I.2. Overview of José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization, 1932–34. 4

FIGURE I.3. Dartmouth students reading statements by former faculty of color about their experiences at the college, May 27, 2016. 25

FIGURE I.4. José Clemente Orozco, Man Released from the Mechanistic to the Creative Life, 1932. 29

FIGURE I.5. View of the west wall of the Orozco Room, Baker-Berry Library, Dartmouth College. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Migration” (Panel 1), “Snakes and Spears” (Panel 2), and “Ancient Human Sacrifice” (Panel 3), 1932–34. 32

FIGURE I.6. View of the Ancient wing of the north wall of the Orozco Room, Baker-Berry Library, Dartmouth College. José Clemente Orozco, Mexican, 1883–1949, The Epic of American Civilization: “Aztec Warriors” (Panel 4), “The Coming of Quetzalcoatl” (Panel 5), “The Pre-Columbian Golden Age” (Panel 6), “The Departure of Quetzalcoatl” (Panel 7), “The Prophecy” (Panel 8), 1932–34. 33

FIGURE I.7. View of the Modern wing of the north wall of the Orozco Room, Baker-Berry Library, Dartmouth College. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Cortez and the Cross” (Panel 11), “The Machine” (Panel 12), “Anglo-America” (Panel 13), “Hispano-America” (Panel 14), “Gods of the Modern World” (Panel 15), 1932–34. 33

FIGURES I.8, I.9, AND I.10. View of the east wall vestibule of the Orozco Room, Baker-Berry Library, Dartmouth College. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Symbols of Nationalism” (Panel 16), “Modern Human Sacrifice” (Panel 17), “Modern Migration of the Spirit” (Panel 18), “Chains of the Spirit” (Panel 19), 1932–34. 34–35

FIGURE I.11. View of the supplement on the south wall of the Orozco Room,

- Baker-Berry Library, Dartmouth College. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Modern Industrial Man” (Panel 20), 1932–34. 36
- FIGURE 1.12. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Totem Poles” (2 panels, Panel 9), 1932–34. 37
- FIGURE 1.13. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Machine Images” (2 panels, Panel 10), 1932–34. 38
- FIGURE 1.1. Diego Rivera, History of Mexico: “The Ancient Indian World,” 1929, Fresco, north wall, stairwell, National Palace, Mexico City. Photo by Bob Schalkwijk. 47
- FIGURE 1.2. Diego Rivera, History of Mexico: “From the Conquest to 1930,” 1929–34. 48
- FIGURE 1.3. Diego Rivera, History of Mexico: “Mexico Today and Tomorrow,” 1934. 49
- FIGURE 1.4. Diego Rivera, detail of central arch on west wall, stairwell, National Palace, Mexico City. 51
- FIGURE 1.5. David Alfaro Siqueiros and the International Team of Plastic Artists, Portrait of the Bourgeoisie, view of left, central, and right walls. 53
- FIGURE 1.6. David Alfaro Siqueiros and the International Team of Plastic Artists, Portrait of the Bourgeoisie, detail of fascist parrot, left wall, 1939–40. 54
- FIGURE 1.7. David Alfaro Siqueiros and the International Team of Plastic Artists, Portrait of the Bourgeoisie, detail of infernal machine, central wall, 1939–40. 55
- FIGURE 1.8. David Alfaro Siqueiros and the International Team of Plastic Artists, Portrait of the Bourgeoisie, detail of proletarian worker, right wall, 1939–40. 56
- FIGURE 1.9. David Alfaro Siqueiros and the International Team of Plastic Artists, Portrait of the Bourgeoisie, detail of electrical towers, ceiling, 1939–40. 58
- FIGURE 1.10. José Clemente Orozco, Dive Bomber and Tank, 1940. 62
- FIGURE 2.1. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “The Coming of Quetzalcoatl” (Panel 5), 1932–34. 87
- FIGURE 2.2. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “The Pre-Columbian Golden Age” (Panel 6), 1932–34. 88
- FIGURE 2.3. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “The Departure of Quetzalcoatl” (Panel 7), 1932–34. 89
- FIGURE 2.4. Illustration of images from the Florentine Codex of Títlacáhuān (the necromancer), from John Hubert Cornyn, The Song of Quetzalcoatl, 1931. 92
- FIGURE 2.5. Illustration of Quetzalcoatl from Samuel Griswold Goodrich’s Lives of Celebrated American Indians, 1843. 92
- FIGURE 2.6. William Blake, 1757–1827, Job Rebuked by His Friends, recto, eighteenth century. 93

- FIGURE 2.7. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Aztec Warriors” (Panel 4), 1932–34. 102
- FIGURE 2.8. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “The Prophecy” (Panel 8), 1932–34. 103
- FIGURE 2.9. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Migration” (Panel 1), 1932–34. 106
- FIGURE 2.10. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Ancient Human Sacrifice” (Panel 3), 1932–34. 107
- FIGURE 2.11. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Modern Human Sacrifice” (Panel 17), 1932–34. 108
- FIGURE 2.12. José Clemente Orozco, Echate La Otra (Dancing Indians), 1935. 112
- FIGURE 3.1. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Cortez and the Cross” (Panel 11), 1932–34. 125
- FIGURE 3.2. Félix Parra, Fray Bartolomé de las Casas, 1875. 131
- FIGURE 3.3. Detail of Cortés’s landing. Diego Rivera, History of Mexico: “From the Conquest to 1930,” 1929–34. 134
- FIGURE 3.4. Detail of Cortés, Malintzin (“La Malinche”), and Martín. Diego Rivera, History of Mexico: “From the Conquest to 1930,” 1929–34. 134
- FIGURE 3.5. Scene from the “golden age” of the Spanish conquest. Diego Rivera, History of Mexico: “From the Conquest to 1930,” 1929–34. 135
- FIGURE 3.6. Scene from the “Silver Age” of the Spanish conquest. Diego Rivera, History of Mexico: “From the Conquest to 1930,” 1929–34. 136
- FIGURE 3.7. Detail of Pedro de Alvarado branding an indigenous slave. Diego Rivera, History of Mexico: “From the Conquest to 1930,” 1929–34. 137
- FIGURE 3.8. José Clemente Orozco, Hernan Cortés and “La Malinche,” 1926. 142
- FIGURE 3.9. José Clemente Orozco, The Franciscan and the Indian, 1926. 142
- FIGURE 3.10. José Clemente Orozco, Portrait of Cortez, 1938–39. 146
- FIGURE 3.11. José Clemente Orozco, The Franciscans, 1938–39. 146
- FIGURE 3.12. José Clemente Orozco, The Mechanized Masses, 1938–39. 148
- FIGURE 3.13. José Clemente Orozco, Las Masas (The Masses), 1935. 148
- FIGURE 3.14. José Clemente Orozco, Despotism, 1938–39. 149
- FIGURE 3.15. José Clemente Orozco, The Dictators, 1938–39. 149
- FIGURE 3.16. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “The Machine” (Panel 12), 1932–34. 153
- FIGURE 3.17. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Anglo-America” (Panel 13), 1932–34. 155
- FIGURE 3.18. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Hispano-America” (Panel 14), 1932–34. 156
- FIGURE 3.19. José Clemente Orozco, Mexican, 1883–1949, The Epic of American Civilization: “Gods of the Modern World” (Panel 15), 1932–34. 165
- FIGURE 3.20. Diego Rivera, 1886–1957, Allegory of California, 1930–31. 167

- FIGURE 3.21. Diego Rivera, The Liberated Earth with Natural Forces Controlled by Man (end wall), 1926–27. 168
- FIGURE 3.22. Diego Rivera, Detroit Industry (east wall), 1932–33. 170
- FIGURE 3.23. Diego Rivera, Detroit Industry (west wall), 1932–33. 171
- FIGURE 3.24. Diego Rivera, Detroit Industry (south wall), 1932–33. 172
- FIGURE 3.25. Diego Rivera, Detroit Industry (north wall), 1932–33. 173
- FIGURE 3.26. Detail of Vaccination. Diego Rivera, Detroit Industry (north wall), 1932–33. 174
- FIGURE 3.27. José Clemente Orozco, Mexican, 1883–1949, The Epic of American Civilization: “Symbols of Nationalism” (Panel 16), 1932–34. 181
- FIGURE 3.28. Detail of central arch depicting the dialectical transition from independence to revolution to postrevolutionary Mexico. Diego Rivera, History of Mexico: “From the Conquest to 1930,” 1929–34. 191
- FIGURE 3.29. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Modern Migration of the Spirit” (Panel 18), 1932–34. 198
- FIGURE 3.30. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Chains of the Spirit” (Panel 19), 1932–34. 200
- FIGURE 3.31. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: study of figure chopping the Cross for “Modern Migration of the Spirit” (Panel 18), 1932–34. 202
- FIGURE 4.1. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Modern Industrial Man” (central panel, 2 of 3, Panel 20), 1932–34. 208
- FIGURES 4.2 AND 4.3. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Modern Industrial Man” (left panel, 1 of 3, Panel 20), 1932–34. 210
- FIGURE 4.4. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: study for “Modern Industrial Man” (left panel, 1 of 3, Panel 20) 1930–34. 211
- FIGURES 4.5 AND 4.6. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: “Modern Industrial Man” (right panel, 3 of 3, Panel 20), 1932–34. 213
- FIGURE 4.7. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: figure study for “Modern Industrial Man” (central panel, 2 of 3, Panel 20), 1930–34. 217
- FIGURE 4.8. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: study of hand for “Modern Industrial Man” (central panel, 2 of 3, Panel 20), 1930–34. 217
- FIGURE 4.9. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: study for “Modern Industrial Man” (central panel, 2 of 3, Panel 20), 1932–34. 218
- FIGURE 4.10. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: study of hand for “Modern Industrial Man” (central panel, 2 of 3, Panel 20), 1932–34. 218
- FIGURE 4.11. José Clemente Orozco, Zapatistas (Generals; Leaders), 1935. 221
- FIGURE 4.12. Tina Modotti, Worker Reading “El Machete,” 1928. 225

- FIGURE 4.13. José Clemente Orozco painting Man Released from the Mechanistic to the Creative Life, n.d. 228
- FIGURE 4.14. Frida Kahlo, My Nurse and I, 1937. 230
- FIGURE 4.15. José Clemente Orozco, Teatro de Variedades en Harlem (Vaudeville in Harlem), 1928. 235
- FIGURE 4.16. José Clemente Orozco, Negroes (Negros colgados, Hanged Black Men), from the portfolio The Contemporary Print Group: American Scene No. 1: A Comment upon American Life by America's Leading Artists, 1933. 241
- FIGURE 4.17. David Alfaro Siqueiros, Victim of Fascism, 1944–45. 242
- FIGURE C.1. Dartmouth students and faculty dining in the Hovey Grill, ca. 1958. 264
- FIGURE C.2. Walter Beach Humphrey, American, 1892–1966, “Oh, Eleazar Wheelock Was a Very Pious Man . . .,” Mural illustrating Richard Hovey’s Song “Eleazar Wheelock” (Panel 1), 1938. 266
- FIGURE C.3. Walter Beach Humphrey, “Five Hundred Gallons of New England Rum . . .,” Mural illustrating Richard Hovey’s Song “Eleazar Wheelock” (Panel 2), 1938. 267
- FIGURE C.4. Walter Beach Humphrey, “The Big Chief That Met Him Was . . .,” Mural illustrating Richard Hovey’s Song “Eleazar Wheelock” (Panel 3), 1938. 267
- FIGURE C.5. Walter Beach Humphrey, “Eleazar Wheelock” (Panel 4), 1938. 268
- FIGURE C.6. Walter Beach Humphrey, “Eleazar and the Big Chief Harangued . . .,” Mural illustrating Richard Hovey’s Song “Eleazar Wheelock” (Panel 5), 1938. 268
- FIGURE C.7. Walter Beach Humphrey, “They Founded Dartmouth College . . .,” Mural illustrating Richard Hovey’s Song “Eleazar Wheelock” (Panel 6), 1938. 269
- FIGURE C.8. Walter Beach Humphrey, “Fill the Bowl . . .,” Mural illustrating Richard Hovey’s Song “Eleazar Wheelock” (Title and Chorus, Panel 7), 1938. 271
- FIGURE C.9. José Clemente Orozco, The Epic of American Civilization: study of Eleazar Wheelock with Indians, 1932–34. 273
- FIGURE C.10. Detail of Occom Pond Singers in front of “Migration” panel, Orozco MEXotica: Guillermo Gómez-Peña Underground at Dartmouth, 2002. 275
- FIGURE C.11. Detail of Michelle Ceballos in her guise as a Zapatista dominatrix in front of “The Coming of Quetzalcoatl” panel. Guillermo Gómez-Peña and La Pocha Nostra Collective, Orozco MEXotica: Guillermo Gómez-Peña Underground at Dartmouth, 2002. 277
- FIGURE C.12. Detail of Juan Ybarra in front of “The Machine” panel. Guillermo Gómez-Peña and La Pocha Nostra Collective, Orozco MEXotica: Guillermo Gómez-Peña Underground at Dartmouth, 2002. 278

- FIGURE C.13. Detail of Guillermo Gómez-Peña engaging student/viewer/ participant in a tableau vivant. Guillermo Gómez-Peña and La Pocha Nostra Collective, Orozco MEXotica: Guillermo Gómez-Peña Underground at Dartmouth, 2002. 279
- FIGURE C.14. Detail of Dartmouth student performing the stereotype of black “super-predator/lynching victim” in front of the “Modern Migration of the Spirit” panel. Guillermo Gómez-Peña and La Pocha Nostra Collective, Orozco MEXotica: Guillermo Gómez-Peña Underground at Dartmouth, 2002. 280
- FIGURE C.15. Detail of Dartmouth student performing the stereotype of a “Voodoo Princess” in front of “The Departure of Quetzalcoatl” panel. Guillermo Gómez-Peña and La Pocha Nostra Collective, Orozco MEXotica: Guillermo Gómez-Peña Underground at Dartmouth, 2002. 281
- FIGURE C.16. Detail of Dartmouth student performing the stereotype of a “Kabuki Club Girl.” Guillermo Gómez-Peña and La Pocha Nostra Collective, Orozco MEXotica: Guillermo Gómez-Peña Underground at Dartmouth, 2002. 282