Erratum

In the article by E. Speina et al., entitled "Decreased Repair Activities of 1,*N*⁶-Ethenoadenine and 3,*N*⁴-Ethenocytosine in Lung Adenocarcinoma Patients," which appeared in the August 1, 2003 issue of Cancer Research (pp. 4351–4357), the captions for figures 5 and 6 were incorrect. The correct captions appear below with the appropriate figures:

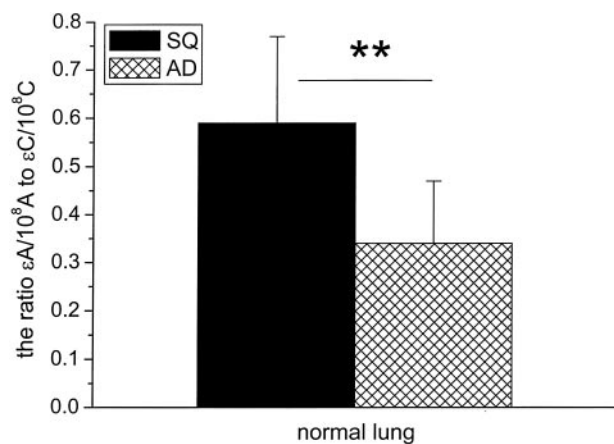

Fig. 5. The ratio of ethenoadenine to ethenocytosine in normal lung tissues from patients with different histological types of cancer: SQ or AD. , $P < 0.005$.

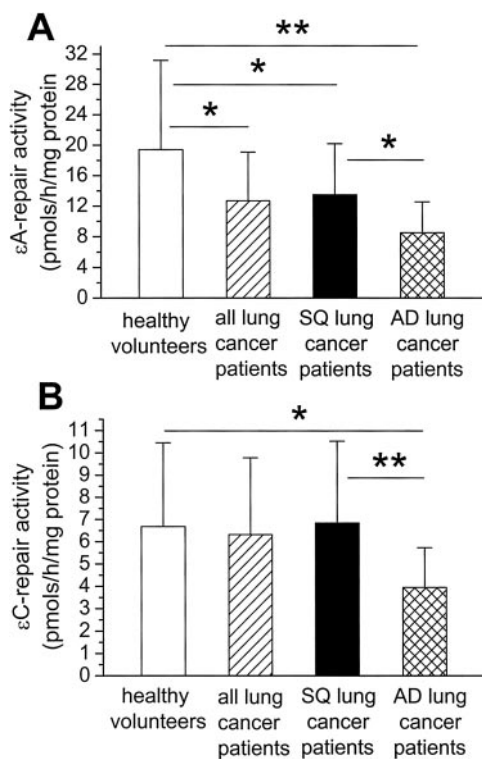

Fig. 6. Repair activities of ethenoadenine (A) and ethenocytosine (B) in leukocytes of lung cancer patients versus healthy volunteers. Comparison includes all cancer patients and patients of groups developing different histological types of cancer: SQ or AD. *, $P < 0.05$; , $P < 0.005$.
