

In Memoriam

Victor Margolin (1941–2019)

It is with sadness that we note the death of Victor Margolin, one of the founding editors of Design Issues. With his breadth of knowledge, his generosity of spirit, and his enthusiasm for intellectual debate he touched many lives. In the months and years ahead, there will be opportunities to assess his enduring contributions to Design History, Design Studies, and our critical appreciation of Design as a tool for realizing a more equitable and just world. Now, we simply mourn the loss of our good friend and colleague.
