Correction to: “The Cross-sectional and Longitudinal Association Between Thyroid Function and Depression: A Population-Based Study”

In the above-named article by Hernando Roa Dueñas O, Hofman A, Luik AI, Medici M, Peeters RP, and Chaker L (J Clin Endo Metab. 2024; doi: 10.1210/clinem/dgad620), there was a typographical error in the Materials and Methods section.

In the originally published version of this manuscript, in the Materials and Methods section, there was a typographical error: “The Rotterdam Study has been entered into The Netherlands National Trial Register (NTR; www.trialregister.nl) and into the WHO International Clinical Trials Registry Platform (ICTRP https://www.who.int/clinical-trials-registry-platform, search portal https://trialsearch.who.int/) under shared catalogue number NL6645 / NTR6831.” In the corrected article, the sentence reads: “The Rotterdam Study has been entered into the Dutch Trial Register (NTR; https://onderzoekmetmensen.nl) and into the WHO International Clinical Trials Registry Platform (ICTRP https://www.who.int/clinical-trials-registry-platform, search portal https://trialsearch.who.int/) under shared catalogue number NL6645 / NTR6831.”

The article has been corrected online.
