McCollum Award

Nominations are invited for the 1976 McCollum Award of the American Society for Clinical Nutrition. Nominations must be submitted in five copies and include 1) a letter outlining the basis for the nomination; 2) a list of published papers of the nominee that are immediately pertinent to the nomination; 3) reprints of those papers that most effectively support the nomination; and 4) the nominee’s curriculum vitae. (A complete bibliography is not needed.)

Seconding or supporting letters do not add information to, or simply duplicate, the original nomination will not be accepted.

Sponsored by the National Dairy Council and administered by the American Society for Clinical Nutrition, this award consists of a grant of $1,000 and an inscribed scroll. It is presented at the annual meeting of the Society to the individual who, by his investigations of biological processes, etiology of diseases, and of methods of treatment and control, has made a distinguished contribution to the field of clinical nutrition in the past five years.

Nominations are to be sent to: American Society for Clinical Nutrition, 9650 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, Maryland 20014, to arrive not later than October 31, 1975.

Symposium on Nutritional Disorders of American Women

A two-day Symposium on Nutritional Disorders of American Women, sponsored by the Institute of Human Nutrition of Columbia University, College of Physicians & Surgeons, will meet at the Commodore Hotel, Lexington Avenue at 42d Street, New York City, November 20 and 21, 1975.

Dr. Myron Winick, Director of the Institute of Human Nutrition will serve as chairman of the Symposium.

The purpose of this meeting is to review the important data pertaining to the most common and perplexing nutritional problems of American women; to explore the special nutritional requirements of adolescence, pregnancy and old age, to examine in depth how nutrients interact with contraceptive pills; to discuss the obesity problem in American women—how it starts, and the best way to treat it. Among other topics to be discussed will be the prevalence of iron-deficiency anemia and why anorexia nervosa and osteoporosis are primarily seen in women.

International Symposium on Food Quality and Safety

An international symposium, to be chaired by Lord Zuckerman, O. M., K. C. B., and entitled “Food Quality and Safety—A Century of Progress”, will take place in London on October 20 and 21, 1975. The purpose of the symposium is to celebrate the centenary of the first effective United Kingdom legislation controlling the sale of food.
Papers will be given by distinguished speakers, both from the United Kingdom and abroad, on the contribution made by law, science and industry to food safety and quality over the past century, and on possible future developments.

Further details of the symposium and registration forms may be obtained from the Secretary, Food Standards Division, Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food, Room 424, Great Westminster House, Horseferry Road, London, SW1P 2AE.
