CONCLUSIONS: 1. In children with CKD sKlotho levels are significantly decreased, independently of GFR. 2. In children with CKD sKlotho correlates negatively with both peripheral and central blood pressure and with left ventricular mass. 3. sKlotho may serve as a useful biochemical marker of early cardiovascular damage in the course of CKD in children.