ANNOUNCEMENTS

Assignment of Copyright

The new Copyright Law which goes into effect January 1, 1978, makes it necessary for the publisher to receive assignment of copyright from authors of articles to be published in scientific periodicals. The assignment must be in writing so that authors, the American Association of Immunologists, and The Williams & Wilkins Company may be protected from the unauthorized use of the contents of The Journal of Immunology.

The authors of manuscripts accepted for publication will receive copyright assignment forms, which should be signed and returned to the Editorial Office as quickly as possible.

Failure to return the signed form promptly will delay publication of the article involved.

Annual Survey Course in Immunology

The annual survey course in Immunology, sponsored by the American Association of Immunologists, will be held at the Given Institute of Pathobiology, Aspen, Colorado, June 26 through July 7, 1978.

The course will be a basic coverage of the current fields of immunobiology, immunochemistry, immunogenetics, clinical and tumor immunology. The course is intended primarily for graduate students and postdoctoral trainees, university or college instructors, and clinicians, who wish to expand their knowledge of the current field of immunology. The number of participants will be limited to approximately 100. Applications for enrollment in the course should include curriculum vitae; current research, teaching or clinical activities; background training in immunology; and reasons for wishing to enroll.

The application should be submitted to Dr. N. L. Warner, Department of Pathology, University of New Mexico School of Medicine, Albuquerque, N. M. 87131, no later than April 15, 1978. There are no formal application forms needed.

The registration fee is $175.00. Accommodation and meal facilities are available at a moderate charge to the applicant.

ERRATA

In "Specific Binding of T Lymphocytes to Macrophages. II. Role of Macrophage-Associated Antigen" by Shlomo Z. Ben-Sasson, Mary F. Lipscomb, Thomas F. Tucker, and Jonathan W. Uhr in the October issue of The Journal of Immunology, Volume 119, Number 4, page 1495, column 1, paragraph 2, line 11, reads "A $p > 9.25$ This should read "A $p > 0.25$"

In the same article on p. 1499, column 2, the sentence beginning on line 8 should read "Pronase a more powerful and less specific enzyme. . . ."

In "Further Purification and Characterization of a Circulating Antigen in Schistosomiasis by Theodore E. Nash, Nasir-Ud-Din, and Roger W. Jeanloz in the November issue of The Journal of Immunology, Volume 119, Number 5, page 1627, line 15 of the abstract should read "primarily N-acetylgalactosamine" and not "N-acetylglucosamine." Also, in line 16, "galactose" is misspelled as "galactase."
