ANNOUNCEMENTS

Positions Available

Postdoctoral Position: A postdoctoral position in immunology is available in the Division of Geographic Medicine of the Department of Medicine, Case Western Reserve University and University Hospitals, Cleveland, Ohio. Research will be conducted on the regulation of immunity in experimental helminth infections in the mouse; particular emphasis will be placed on schistosomiasis and trichinosis. The position is available beginning January, 1979. Please send curriculum vitae, references and a summary of research interests to Adel Mahmoud, M.D., Ph.D., Division of Geographic Medicine, University Hospitals, Cleveland, Ohio 44106.

Immunologist. Position open for Ph.D. or M.D. at the Assistant Professor level. Joint appointment available in the Department of Medicine for M.D. Candidate should be able to conduct active research program contributing to departmental interests in cellular and molecular biology. Participation in graduate and medical teaching required. Correspondence to: Dr. Morton M. Weber, Department of Microbiology, St. Louis University School of Medicine, 1402 S. Grand Blvd., St. Louis, Mo. 63104. An equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Immunologist. Columbia Hospital, a 400-bed community hospital affiliated with The Medical College of Wisconsin, is in need of a clinical immunologist to direct its service laboratories and develop and coordinate research programs in rheumatology and oncology. The position requires a Ph.D. degree and considerable training and experience in applied clinical immunology and research activities. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience. Send curriculum vitae to David J. Rothwell, M.D., Department of Laboratory Medicine, Columbia Hospital, 2025 East Newport Avenue, Milwaukee, Wisc. 53211

Neuroimmunologist. Two-year postdoctoral position starting January 1, 1979, for Ph.D. or M.D. with experience in cellular immunology, to study autoimmune disease of the neural retina. Send curriculum vitae and names of three references to Dr. Roberta Meyers Elliott, Jules Stein Eye Institute, UCLA School of Medicine, Los Angeles, Calif. 90024. Supported by the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation. UCLA is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Head, Section of Immunology. The Department of Microbiology and Immunology at The University of Michigan Medical School invites applications for Head of a newly formed Section of Immunology. The Section now comprises two members and will be expanded to five or six. Candidates should have an earned doctorate (or equivalent), an outstanding research record with emphasis on molecular approaches to immunology, and a demonstrated capacity for academic leadership. The individual will be expected to continue an independent research program and promote and expand a strong interdisciplinary research and academic program in immunology. Academic rank will be at the associate professor/professor level. Submit application including complete curriculum vitae and list of referees to: Dr. J. Latham Clafin, Chairman, Immunology Search Committee, Department of Microbiology and Immunology, 6643 Medical Science Building II, University of Michigan Medical School, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48109. The University of Michigan is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Fellowship Announcement

Awards are available on a competitive basis to women who hold a degree from a recognized institution of higher learning in one of the mathematical, physical, or biological sciences and are currently involved in research or have an approved research proposal. Appointments will be made irrespective of race, nationality, creed, or marital status. Two types of awards are available: Eloise Gerry Fellowship ($2000 to $8000, not to be used for a degree program, deadline for applications and credentials December 1), and Grants-in-Aid ($750, deadline January 15). Announcement of awards will be made by the following July 1. Further information and application forms may be obtained from: Sigma Delta Epsilon, Graduate Women in Science, Inc., 1346 Connecticut Ave., NW, Room 1102, Washington, D. C. 20036.

An individual may apply for only one of the two awards. Please indicate to which type of award your inquiry is addressed.
