I31. EXPERIENCES OF BEING A PATIENT AND PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT REPRESENTATIVE FOR CLINICAL RHEUMATOLOGY RESEARCH

Ruth Wells1
1Wells Park Practice, London, UK

Personal examples of living with arthritis and contributing to research design and development will be discussed and used to illustrate the value and benefit of involving patient and public partners through the research process.

Disclosure statement: The author has declared no conflicts of interest.