

2022 Reviewers With Distinction Award

The Journal of Mechanical Design Reviewers with Distinction Award is given to reviewers who have made a meritorious contribution to the journal in terms of the number, quality, and turnaround time of reviews completed during the past year. The prize is an award certificate. Winners are announced in the journal, posted on the ASME Digital Collection, and on the JMD companion website. The 2022 winners of this award are as follows:

Courtney Cole—Penn State University, USA
Xiaoping Du—Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis, USA
Daniel Hulse—NASA Ames Research Center, USA
Chen Jiang—Huazhong University of Science and Technology, China
Noe Vargas Hernandez—University of Texas Rio Grande Valley, USA
Vivek Rao—University of California Berkeley, USA
Hongyi Xu—University of Connecticut, USA

We would like to congratulate all the award recipients and look forward to continuing to work with the entire ASME community of editors, authors, reviewers, and staff to bring JMD to the next level of excellence.
