Special Issue: Polling Politics, Media, and Election Campaigns

Introduction
Polling Politics, Media, and Election Campaigns

The Methods and Accuracy of Polling
The Accuracy of the National Preelection Polls in the 2004 Presidential Election

Polling and the Media
Reporting “The Polls” in 2004

Political Polling and the New Media Culture: A Case of More Being Less

Of Polls, Mountains: U.S. Journalists and Their Use of Election Surveys

Can a Poll Affect Perception of Candidate Traits?

Voters and Values in the 2004 Election
Polls, Voters, and American Politics

Grassroots Mobilization and Voter Turnout in 2004
DANIEL E. BERGAN, ALAN S. GERBER, DONALD P. GREEN, and COSTAS PANAGOPoulos

Inequality and Democratic Responsiveness
MARTIN GILENS

For instructions on submitting a manuscript to Public Opinion Quarterly, please see the Notice to Contributors at www.poq.oxfordjournals.org.